

CPSA DC 119 Greater Cincinnati

An affiliate of the Colored Pencil Society of America (CPSA), District Chapter 119 was organized in July of 2006. The chapter serves Ohio, Kentucky, and Indiana. It is open to anyone 18 years of age and older who would like to join. The only requirement is all members must be members of the CPSA National organization.

DC 119 meets four times each year on the third Saturday in January, April, July, and October. The chapter also holds a holiday gathering in November.

Meetings consist of a board meeting from 10:00 AM to noon followed by a three hour program focused on colored pencil techniques. The board meetings are open to all members and the programs are free.

CPSA History

Colored pencil as a fine art medium is relatively new compared to other media. The first book about working in colored pencil was written by Bet Borgeson and published in 1983.

In 1989, artist Vera Curnow wondered if other artists who worked in colored pencil also believed a national Colored Pencil Society was overdue. Her letter to the Artist's Magazine unleashed a landslide of responses from artists around the United States. As a result, the first meeting of the new Colored Pencil Society of America was held in the Pacific Northwest in 1990.

Today CPSA welcomes artist members not just from America but from around the world.

CPSA Purpose:

CPSA exists for its members. The society offers opportunities for education, community, and exposure. Our members cheer each other on, offer advice and support, and genuinely care about one another. You'll see it in lifelong friendships at local district chapter meetings, and the excitement each year when members get together at the CPSA International Exhibition and convention.
